ViaLase to Present Clinical Data at the 2023 American Society of Cataract and Refractive Surgery (ASCRS) Annual Meeting

ALISA VIEJO, CA — May 1, 2023 — ViaLase, Inc., a clinical stage medical technology company focused on addressing unmet needs in the conventional glaucoma treatment paradigm with the development of a truly noninvasive image-guided femtosecond laser treatment to enhance glaucoma patient care, today announced that it will present first-in-human clinical data and a technology overview during the 2023 American Society of Cataract and Refractive Surgery \(ASCRS\) Annual Meeting to be held May 5-8, 2023 in San Diego, California.

Presentations at Eyecelerator and ASCRS 2023 will provide insights into ViaLase's new technology and 2-year outcomes of the first-in-human initial study of femtosecond laser image-guided high-precision trabeculotomy (FLigHT) treatment in patients with glaucoma.

"We are excited to present our 2-year clinical data to the ophthalmic community and continue to share the potential value of the micron accuracy, non-invasive treatment of glaucoma performed with advanced image-guided, femtosecond laser technology," said Tibor Juhasz, PhD, Founder and Chief Executive Officer, ViaLase, Inc. "The results mark an important first step in demonstrating FLigHT's potential as a safe and effective treatment option for patients with primary open angle glaucoma. We are optimistic about the new opportunities ViaLase's FLigHT treatment can offer to practices and patients alike."
